Carolyn and Ashley are the referral coordinators. We always prefer the referring doctor to telephone first. Always introduce yourself as "Doctor" so as to facilitate their availability and the discussion. Should you feel the need to discuss the case with Dr. Martinson, simply ask. After introducing yourself as "Doctor" and being told that he is out, it is appropriate, if the need is immediate, to call his cell or home.

Your clients can call to schedule an appointment independently, or simply take the phone after your initial discussion. They will find my coordinators able to answer most questions. If they cannot, your client will be contacted after discussion with Dr. Martinson, or he will personally return the call.
